My symptoms of harassment include... sudden onset of headaches that can last for more than 10 hours at a time, bee sting attacks to the surface of my skin occurring anywhere on my body, blurred vision, manipulation of body parts, muscle spasms, sleep deprivation that has lasted for up to 5 consecutive days, extreme drop in your tracks tiredness, loss of balance, loss of concentration, short term memory loss, dizziness, burns, bloody nose, ringing/tinnitus in one or both ears, extreme itching, fake noises and noise campaigns to induce stress and sleep loss, symptoms of heart attack, chest pain, burning feet sensation, numbness of extremities. All of these symptoms can appear and disappear without notice.

Besides the electronic harassment I have also experienced the following; appliances turning on and off, traffic light manipulation, missing personal items, damaged clothing, unexplained problems with email/computer, damage to my vehicle, damaged clothing, missing personal items, missing mail, street lights/building lights going out as I walk beneath them, street theater-organized stunts conducted by people to further induce anxiety, isolation and stress.

10-11 pm is the worst time for me to listen, because in a normal night, that hour is one of the best hours to get a little sleep for me. After midnight, the perps start their nightly unquenchable itching, bee stings, involuntary limb thrashing, electronic caffeine, and other sleep disruptions and that continue until first light.

... with pin-point accuracy in their pin-prick sensitivity testing they do to us with "bee stings" they torture us with! What a concept!!

"Bee stings" was a term coined by someone (perhaps Eleanor?) to describe the feeling or sensation of this particular type of attack.

I use it because it is quick, descriptive and convenient.

I wasn't the originator - first time I saw that term was on [mcforums].

My original term was "hot needles deep in the flesh."

itching which can only be stopped by raking your skin down to blood, and for which there is no rash, and often worst when you are trying to sleep.

I still experience occasional v2k, some sleep deprivation, the 'bee sting' kind of itching on my skin and occasional street theater. But I have learned to manage it much better now, and I know how to keep it at a minimum.

Perhaps I will never know what exactly took place that stole a huge chunk of my life away from me, but I will always search for those answers on my own. However, if they are not appreciated on this forum, or by individual TIs that I communicate with, then I will discontinue posting and just carry on my research privately.

The bee stings are a -itch! I got hit quite a few times a day initially, now much less...I was such a nervous wreck I had nearly lethal nose bleeds and had to be hospitalized with off the wall high blood pressure because of stress...
